Just What Is Your Sun Sign's Gift to Planet Earth? (Part 4)

By Lesley Francis (Mercury Rising Editor)

Capricorn – The answer is pretty obvious. The whole enchilada. Without form and structure, there would be no Earth for the rest of the has-beens to congregate on. They'd be mere wisps in space. Floating around with nowhere to go and nothing to screw up. I keep trying to tell them that life is about making the best of what you've got. Stay grounded. Stay focused. Don't get distracted by pie-in-the-sky stuff. But, do they listen? No. And who do they turn to clean up their messes? Me!

Aquarius – Okay, there's no way to avoid this. I am the stick of dynamite in the dam of life. Somebody has to be. Otherwise, everyone would get far too complacent about things and just zone out. I just can't have that. Where's the excitement, the stimulation in that? Where's the growth? Where's the satisfaction in only playing with known quantities and qualities? It leads to one thing and one thing only – inertia. And that's just another word for Kryptonite.

Pisces – Am I still living on Earth? I thought I'd given that up for a membership in Aliens R Us. It's just too hard to continually be a source of faith, inspiration and compassion when everyone around you looks at you like you came from Outer Space. They just don't get it. Life can be so much more if you just expand your consciousness to other dimensions. It can help you make heaven on earth. Oh well, nobody appreciates that. Or me come to think of it. No one.
